Dear Member

Detailed Briefing on Industrial Strategy White Paper

The Industrial Strategy White Paper, launched earlier this week, sets out the UK Government's planned approach to driving productivity and growth and identifies areas of strength where Britain can 'lead the global technological revolution.'

We have examined the Industrial Strategy to understand how it supports the objectives outlined within our sector's Skills Strategy and whether it recognises energy and utilities as a strategically important sector in infrastructure delivery and the wider economy.

You can read the Policy Review here.

We have already offered to partner with the Business Secretary, in supporting our members to secure the resilience of their human assets, as the whole Energy & Utilities Skills Partnership continues to galvanise support for our Workforce Renewal & Skills Strategy.

We will keep you updated as our work progresses and welcome your comments and questions.

Kind regards

Grace Storey
