

Helping you to build greater disability confidence

We are partnering with Energy & Utility Skills to develop greater disability confidence across these sectors.

As one of the UK's leading providers of specialist disability services, Remploy helps employers through specialist consultancy and training courses to develop workplace environments that allow everyone to flourish.

We can support you to:

- Make a real difference
- Exceed your objectives and reap the rewards, just like our other partners
- Drive real positive change
- Equip your organisation with the confidence and knowledge to create an inclusive and diverse workforce that lasts.

Our range of courses include:

- Mental wellbeing for line managers
- Personal and team resilience
- Mental Health First Aid
- Mental health for Customer Service teams
- Disability and health.

Exclusive Energy & Utility Skills member offer
